Funding Information Network

Candid.

Foundation Center + GuideStar = Candid.

In February 2019, the Foundation Center and GuideStar joined forces and changed their name to Candid. Candid is a leading source of information about philanthropy worldwide. Through data, analysis, and training, it connects people who want to change the world to the resources they need to succeed.

With Candid you can: research and verify nonprofits, find funding, explore issues, improve your nonprofit or foundation, tell your story, and stay up to date. Candid provides access to it's information through many portals:

Foundation Directory Online—Professional

It's all about the match!

Nonprofits want to find grantmakers who care about the populations they serve and the services they provide. Grantmakers want to find nonprofits who can translate their philanthropic goals into action. Matching these interests and passions between nonprofits and grantmakers can lead to creation of a mutually beneficial partnership.

But how do you find your nonprofit's best matching funders? You do your homework! The Foundation Directory Online—Professional (FDO) is an excellent matching tool. The FDO has information and funding history for over 140,000 grantmakers and 12 million+ grants. You can customize your search to find grantmakers who:

- Fund in your areas of interest and the population you serve

- Fund in your geographic region
- Provide the type of support you need

Once you have found prospective funders, you can use the information in the FDO profiles to refine your results. You can find the most appropriate ask amount and study similar nonprofits the funders have actually funded. Application requirements are spelled out and live links to the funder's website and social media accounts are provided. In the 'Who's Who' section of the profile you can identify networking opportunities among foundation officers and staff. When available, links to LinkedIn profiles of staff are provided.

For more efficient searching, all the information in the funder profiles is organized in the same way. Smaller funders have fewer access points in their profiles, but retain live links to their informative 990PF tax forms.

You do need to be physically in the library at 210 Central Avenue, to use the Foundation Directory Online. Once you are here you can customize your results and then either download or email information on your closest matches to your home or office.

If you are unfamiliar with FDO you can attend a free, hands-on class that occurs monthly at the Central Library, January through May, and September through November. If you are unable to attend the class, you can book a 45 minute hands-on tutorial. For more information, please contact Deborah Brewer at Bellingham Public Library, 360-778-7210, or email dbrewer@cob.org.

The Foundation Directory Online is provided by a generous grant from the Whatcom Community Foundation.

Learning

Candid Learning

Candid Learning is a free online tool, available 24/7 that is a wonderful compilation of information, resources, and training aimed specifically at nonprofits interested in increasing their operating, managing, and fundraising skills. You can take an online class on how to get your Board involved in fundraising, watch a video of a grantmaker explaining how they want to be approached, and ask a Foundation Center expert questions via chat or email. You can study over 600 examples of successful nonprofit collaborations, or review samples of successful grant winning proposals, budgets, letters of inquiry, and letters of proposal. <https://learning.candid.org>

Guidestar

GuideStar is well known for providing information, resources, and analysis for the philanthropy sector. Nonprofits can benefit from claiming and updating their free Nonprofit Profile through Guidestar. This is an effective way to get your nonprofit's information in front of donors, funders, and key decision makers for free. Through your profile you can:

- Showcase your programs and your impact
- Send fresh information to 200+ partner sites, including AmazonSmile, Facebook, Fidelity Charitable, and Network for Good
- Add a donate button directly to your profile to boost your funding
- Use your profile as the perfect handout in funder meetings

Thousands of foundations rely on GuideStar to help decide which nonprofits are worthy of grants. Join the 200,000 nonprofits that have already shared their stories. <https://www.guidestar.org>

IssueLab

Background and statistical information on social issues can be useful in writing grant proposals or in education efforts by your nonprofit.

IssueLab is a free, searchable collection of case studies, white papers, issue briefs, and reports created by or for the social sector on critical issues. You can search any of 38 issue areas for current research. Sign up to receive notice of new research when it emerges.

<https://www.issuelab.org>

Philanthropy Classification System

Philanthropy Classification System

Get the most out of your search terms when using the Foundation Directory Online. The FDO's initial search box asks you to describe, in everyday language, what you want to fund. Then the FDO translates that language into authorized search terms.

Sometimes it is not clear what an authorized search term means, or how it applies to your situation. In the Philanthropy Classification System you can find descriptions of:

- Subjects
- Populations
- Types of organizations
- Support strategies

You can also explore the relationship between terms by using the Hierarchy tool. If you have too many results or too few you may need to use narrower or broader terms, and the Hierarchy tool can help.
