News Release

SEPT. 10, 2021

Eychaner named acting director of Washington State Broadband Office

Departing director Russ Elliott stewarded state office from start up to one of the nation's leading efforts toward digital equity for rural communities

OLYMPIA, WA --- Washington Commerce Director Lisa Brown today announced that Dawn Eychaner will serve as acting director of the Washington State Broadband Office effective Sept. 30, when current director Russ Elliott leaves the position to serve as Chief Executive Officer of a California telecommunications carrier. Eychaner has served as deputy director of the office since June this year.

Since it was established in 2019 with a minimal budget and two full time staff including Elliott, the Washington State Broadband Office has built successful public-private partnerships across the state to meet the state's aggressive broadband goals and break down digital equity barriers. . Achievements of the growing office to date include a federally-recognized effort that created hundreds of emergency free drive-in Wi-Fi hotspots throughout the state and implementation of a detailed strategy and mapping tools for achieving the goal of universal broadband connectivity by 2025. The work garnered over $300 million in funding from the Washington Legislature for the 2021-23 biennium.

Eychaner has a background in local infrastructure financing with the Washington State Public Works and Community Economic Revitalization (CERB) Boards, as well as significant policy experience in the legislature on issues and programs related to early learning, Temporary Aid to Needy Families (TANF), food assistance and affordable housing.

“Dawn has a terrific blend of experience to provide continuity of leadership for the broadband office’s digital equity focus,” said Commerce Director Lisa Brown. She said a national recruitment will be underway soon, with the permanent appointment made jointly with Gov. Jay Inslee later this fall.

“I am proud of our work with the Legislature and Governor Inslee to take the broadband office from a startup to a collaborative organization responsible for $326 million in funding, putting us well on the way to meeting our goal of providing affordable broadband access to all residents,” Elliott said. He also noted several successful federal funding applications that are under consideration for broadband infrastructure to communities including Jefferson County, Stevens County, Okanogan County, Kittitas County, Ferry County and a number of projects on Tribal lands across the state.

New community and Tribal “Broadband Action Teams” throughout the state will boost this and other broadband office work in coming months. Elliott recognized support across this state to meet the state's aggressive broadband goals from both public and private entities, calling it “humbling” and the reason why Washington state continues to be among the top states in the country in building out broadband infrastructure.

Need help paying for service? The Federal Communications Commission’s (FCC) Emergency Broadband Benefit (EBB) may be able to help. The EBB will provide a discount of up to $50 per month towards broadband service for eligible households and up to $75 per month for households on Tribal lands. In addition, eligible households can also receive a one-time discount of up to $100 to purchase a laptop, desktop computer, or tablet from participating providers if they contribute $10-$50 toward the purchase price. Regular Meeting of the Library Board of Trustees
Tuesday, August 17, 2021 – Zoom meeting
3:30 p.m.

Minutes of Actions and Decisions of the Library Board of Trustees of the Bellingham Public Library as authorized by RCW 27.12.210 and SEC. 7.02 Charter of the City of Bellingham.

Board Members Present: Rick Osen, Jim McCabe, Rebecca Craven, Vernon (Damani) Johnson and Kristy Van Ness

Library Staff: Rebecca Judd, Annette Bagley, Jon McConnel, Jennifer Vander Ploeg, Katie Bray and Wendy Jenkins

Others Present: Hollie Huthman, City Council Liaison; Leigh Ann Giles, Friends of BPL Co-President

Call to order and introductions: Regular session was called to order at 3:31 p.m. by Chair, Rick Osen.

Approve/modify agenda: Jim McCabe moved to approve the agenda. Rebecca Craven seconded. Motion carried.

Public comment: No comments.

Consent agenda: Rebecca Craven moved to approve the July 20, 2021 Regular meeting minutes and the July 2021 performance and activity measures and financial reports. Damani Johnson seconded. Motion carried.

Board Chair report:

- Rick announced we will continue to meet virtually until the City recommends in-person meetings. City Council plans to discuss this at their August 31 meeting.
- The Fundraising Committee is scheduled to meet September 8. Rick invited Rachel Myers, Philanthropic Advisor & Program Manager for Whatcom Community Foundation (and a former BPL Trustee), to attend.
- Rick was happy to attend last month's Friends' board meeting. He plans to attend regularly to help coordinate communication and foster our relationship with this valuable organization.

Board member reports: No reports.

City Council liaison report: No report; Council is on a 3-week break.

Friends of BPL report:

- Leigh Ann reported that the Friends are busy processing donations from the community and Village Books.
- The Friends have held two Pop-up Sales so far, with another scheduled for 10am-2pm on Friday, August 20. They are asking customers to wear masks and social distance.
- Other book sales under consideration are a Children's Sale in September and a big sale in November; considerations include the pandemic and the weather.
- Cathy, the Friends' long-term bookkeeper, is leaving in January; recommendations for this position can be directed to Leigh Ann.

Library Director report:

- Rebecca and WCLS Executive Director Christine Perkins toured the new Central Skagit Library in Sedro Wooley on August 6. Rebecca was impressed with the 11,000 square foot building, designed by SHKS Architects, which includes flexible spaces, interesting acoustic treatments, nice lighting, many face-out browsing options, movable shelving units, lockers and play spaces. Sedro-Wooley Library, a municipal library, annexed into the Central Skagit Rural County Library District several years ago.
- Whatcom Museum is installing the final pieces of artwork in the Central Library – a wall mounted sculpture in the entrance lobby and six prints near the public computers.
- Wayfinding signage is up and it looks great. Annette worked with Katrina Lyon Designs and Signs Plus on this large project.
- Rebecca will be on vacation the next two weeks.

Kristy, referring to the Climate Action Week information in the Director's Report, suggested this could be an opportunity to work with the School District and she offered to help.

Rebecca Craven asked for more information about the TAG Reconnect program. Rebecca Judd explained the purpose of this program is to connect repurposed equipment with low-income clients. TAGNW (Technology Alliance Group for Northwest Washington) is the lead agency and responsible for project management and the website; C4PIN (Computers for People in Need) accepts computer donations at their facility and, in coordination with community volunteer Jon Humphries, handles the technical aspects of refurbishing the equipment. The Whatcom Community Foundation provided a grant to cover the cost that would typically be charged to a recipient working with C4PIN directly. TAG works with local social service agencies to identify recipients through an application process. TAG Reconnect has funding to pilot the program for 10 months, providing up to 50 computers. Jon added that, in addition to providing hardware, proactive technical support is also being developed using TAG volunteers.

Leigh Ann requested an update on cash handling at the main Help Desk at Central. Rebecca explained that we are working with the software vendor to troubleshoot why the point-of-sale isn't working at these terminals. We do not have a date yet as to when this will be active again. We can accept payment at the Children's desk and at the branches.

2nd Quarter update:

- Rebecca screen-shared a PowerPoint presentation, Bellingham Public Library 2021 Action Plan (see Attachment #1 – all Attachments are located at the end of the minutes), highlighting the progress that has been made on 2021 identified goals during the 2nd quarter of 2021 (yellow highlights are 1st quarter accomplishments; Goldenrod highlights represent 2nd quarter). Each of the five strategic directions – Welcome & Include; Access & Opportunity; Read & Learn; Inform & Involve; Thrive & Grow – are presented in two parts: what we are doing, followed by what we hope to accomplish.

Reopening update: Rebecca reported reopening updates in three parts:

- First, a roundup of services coming or on pause:
 - Public access computers are on track to be online by the end of August. We will first rollout computers at Central, followed by the branches. Adding a new server involved reconfiguring all computers.
 - Nearly New sales for the Friends have been on hold while we wait for a vendor to troubleshoot issues on cash handling software at the Central Help Desk.
 - With the rising case counts of the Delta variant, plans to reopen meeting and study rooms has been put on pause.
 - In-person meetings have also been paused until further direction from the City; further direction should be available after City Council meets on August 31.
 - Outreach to long-term care facilities is on hold except for the facilities that have arranged for holds pick-up.
- Second, an update on current vacant positions: we are on track to post, on August 27, 4 of the 5 vacant positions – Library Clerk (2 openings); Part-time Public Services Librarian; Full-time Children's Librarian; and Community Relations Specialist. The process of reviewing applications, interviewing, hiring and training will be a lengthy process, but this is an exciting first step.
- Third is discussion of a document illustrating Fall 2021 open-hours adjustment options along with potential impacts. Rebecca screen-shared a revised version of the Fall 2021 hours proposal to replace the document in the packet (see Attachment #2 for Fall 2021 hours proposal). Options considered are:
 - Option 1: The Reshuffle – this option expands Central hours Tuesday-Saturday but involves being closed on Monday except for the Call Center.
 - Options 2: Consistency with Branches – this option aligns Central hours with the branch hours Wednesday-Saturday, while having longer days on Monday and Tuesday.
 - Option 3: Stay the Course – this option was added in the revised version and keeps current hours plus expands Monday and Tuesday hours until 6:00 p.m.

Each option includes curbside service at the end of the day on Saturday. Option 3 is the recommendation from the Management Team. Also included on the document is a summary of the 4 COVID-10 phases.

Kristy expressed concern that school age children will not have access to the library from Wednesday-Friday.

Hollie acknowledged that Kristy's concern is important, but offered that, as an employer, she is seeing staff burned out over uncertainty and constant change, so Hollie feels there is value in maintaining consistency for patrons and staff.

Rick questioned if curbside has dropped off enough that 1 hour a week will meet the need. He commented that Option 2 limits hours at Central too much and shouldn't be considered. Rick also asked if there is talk of moving back to a previous phase. Rebecca responded, this hasn't been signaled by the City, but it is worth planning for the possibility.

Rebecca Craven asked for clarification on how long these temporary hours would be in effect. Rebecca Judd answered that this is until we are fully staffed and trained. She added that the first priority will be to add back the 3-6 pm afternoon hours M-F. Rick suggested, in communications, we emphasize the short-term time frame and that we hope to get back to pre-pandemic hours as soon as possible.

Jim acknowledged that Kristy has a good point about the children but added that as a senior citizen, consistency is important.

Damani agreed Option 2 is not ideal – Central is critical.

Rebecca Craven acknowledged that all the scenarios have impacts but for current circumstances, keeping in mind change fatigue, Option 3 is best.

Rick asked if thought was given to closing more days at the branches to provide more hours at Central. Jen responded that we can't move the holds back and forth easily so it would make holds pick-up difficult for branch patrons. She added that branches only have two staff members at a time, so closing branches does not provide enough staff to open more hours at Central.

After discussion, the Board acknowledged that this will be a temporary change and recommended that Library management determine which option is best. Rebecca thanked the trustees for their support in this process.

Facilities Committee update:

- Rick and Rebecca met with Cordata Neighborhood Association representatives Kate McDonald and Julie Guy, along with Council member Hannah Stone, who represents their district. Rick said they reviewed the Level of Service standards, illustrating that we are low on the standards scale. This provided some perspective while acknowledging we will continue the process of determining service needs for the northside as well as the rest of the city. Rick added we are looking for a library consultant to help develop a master strategy plan for services and facilities.
- The Facilities Committee will be meeting on Thursday.

New Business:

- No new business.

Action items for next meeting:

- Guest, Sarah Chaplin, Assistant City Attorney
- Facilities Committee update
- Fundraising Committee update

Meeting adjourned at 4:41 p.m.

--	--	4	4	4	4	4	20
--	8	8	8	8	8	8	48
--	--	--	--	--	--	1	1

Potential impacts:

- Maximizes early morning, after school, and after work access at Central
- Reduction in branch hours
- Computers and WiFi available fewer days per week
- Might be confusing for regular patrons
- Monday is a busy in-person day at Central and branches
- Some disruption to staff schedule

Option 2: “Consistency with Branches”

DIRECTOR'S REPORT FOR September 21, 2021

With hospitals filling and Delta variant case counts at record highs, we have been working hard to make sure that our public health safety protocols are firmly in place. On August 23, Governor Inslee's statewide mask mandate went into effect for all public indoor spaces. Pursuant to this order, masks are available for Library patrons who don't have their own, and staff are regularly circulating the public areas to check that masks are being worn, and worn properly. In addition, large public events, including the September 16 "Meet a Truck" hosted by Public Works and the Library, have been cancelled. (Rebecca Judd, Library Director)

WELCOME & INCLUDE

New Library staff: We welcomed 8 new Library Assistants to our team this month! Kian Sauvola, Jeff Kent, Robin Green, Catherine Brown, Carl Oekerman, Dave Lippiatt, Carolyn Bobryk, and Kimber Langton started in early September, and boy, they are learning fast. The 25-hour Public Services Clerk position closed on September 10. We received over 120 applications for the two openings and will be scheduling interviews in the coming weeks. (Jen Vander Ploeg, Head of Public Services and Operations)

Librarian team changes: After 28 years, Adult Public Services Librarian Diane Formway retired on September 1. Everyone at the Library, but particularly, the Public Service Librarian team, will miss Diane's gracious kindness, good humor, exceptional customer service and stellar research expertise and abilities. Thank you, Diane, for nearly three decades of connecting our community to stories and information. To fill her position, a 32 hour-per-week Public Services Librarian 1 position was posted in late August and closed September 13. We look forward to screening applications, conducting interviews, and hiring a new member of the Adult Public Services Librarian team this fall. The full-time children's position is open now and closes on September 24. (Bethany Hogle, Deputy Library Director)

Open hours: We made the transition to our next phase of open hours on September 7. This included adding more open public hours on Monday and Tuesday and shifting curbside pickup appointments to Saturdays only. (Jen Vander Ploeg, Head of Public Services and Operations)

Inclusive spaces: Signage at the Central branch continues to be adjusted as needed. Our next phase is to add an outdoor display case for social services information, a display space for Friends of BPL information and book bags, and signage in the public computer area. We are developing a Land Acknowledgement statement and a Welcome sign in multiple languages for the main floor entry space. We are also re-envisioning the lower lobby space at the bottom of the stairs, as well as the signage and bulletin board areas at the Fairhaven and Barkley branches. (Annette Bagley, Head of Community Relations)

ACCESS & OPPORTUNITY

Equity lens on procedures: It is current Library procedure to pass along all Interlibrary Loan fees to patrons who lose items. These lost item fees are set by the lending institution and can sometimes be many times the actual replacement cost of the item. To provide more equitable service, we are updating procedures to charge patrons the replacement cost only. Additional fees will be absorbed by the Library. (Jon McConnel, Head of Digital Services)

Kanopy: Overdrive acquired the popular video streaming platform Kanopy in early September. To date, we haven't seen changes to either system, but they note that "In the future, there will be an opportunity to cross-promote Kanopy in the Libby app." A new tier of premium content was added to the Kanopy platform recently. Each play is double the cost and is available for 48 hours, instead of the standard 72. Bellingham Public Library has elected not to continue the premium content at this time, due to budgetary constraints. (Jon McConnel, Head of Digital Services)

Palace Project: SimplyE, originally developed by New York Public Library to provide greater access to eBook content, will be splitting into two platforms. New York Public Library will continue to develop SimplyE, and the company Lyris will be using the SimplyE platform to develop a new product, which they are calling "Palace." Our strategy of waiting to publicize the beta instance of SimplyE, funded through the Washington State Library, has paid off. At the end of August we were informed about a break in service from early September until Lyris is able to stand up their new system. The estimated date for the Palace launch is early October. (Jon McConnel, Head of Digital Services)

READ & LEARN

Summer Reading 2021: Summer Reading was a bit different this year, but still a success as readers of all ages charted their own individual paths of story, information and activity. While we did not count "finishers" or award completion prizes, enthusiastic readers, primarily children, still turned in their reading sheets, proud of their accomplishments. Thank you to the Friends of the Bellingham Public Library for providing the 520 Children's and Teen books we gave away during summer Library Parties and Teen Space Open Houses. (Bethany Heglund, Deputy Library Director)

Completed Summer Reading sheets on display in the Children's Library

Virtual Author Visit with Padma Lakshmi: In partnership with Village Books and Common Threads Farm, the Library co-sponsored a virtual author visit on September 8 featuring Padma Lakshmi in conversation with Jesse Tyler Ferguson. Padma and Jesse talked about Padma's new children's picture book, Tomatoes for Neela. Children's Public Services Librarian Bernice Chang provided a very warm welcome and introduced Padma and Jesse to an audience of nearly 100. (Bethany Heglund, Deputy Library Director)

Whatcom Reads 2022: Publicity and programming for the 2022 Whatcom Reads season is ongoing featuring "Greenwood" by Michael Christie. BPL is planning the signature author event to be held at Mount Baker Theatre in early March. (Annette Bagley, Head of Community Relations)

INFORM & INVOLVE

Hispanic / Latinx Heritage Month: Bellingham Public Library is actively promoting Hispanic/Latinx Heritage Month, celebrated nationally Sept. 15- Oct. 15, on social media and has developed displays of materials in both the adult services and children's departments. (Annette Bagley, Head of Community Relations)

Librarian Suzanne Carlson-Prandini promotes Hispanic / Latinx Heritage Month reading display

Climate Action Week: Bellingham Public Library is participating in Climate Action Week, Sept. 20 – 26, in partnership with organizations throughout the community. We are publicizing an interactive Treasure Hunt mural by Project We Beam in the lobby of the Children's Dept at the Central branch, two virtual Storytimes for ages 0 – 5, a book and materials list titled "This World We Call Home," and a new bookclub kit for the "The Heartbeat of Trees." (Annette Bagley, Head of Community Relations)

Whatcom Youth Pride: Teen Librarian Jennifer Lovchik was recently featured on the Whatcom Youth Pride Instagram and Facebook pages. The text below the image reads, "Okay, okay. So, back to school, but not ready to be back to the grind? Maybe a little escapist reading can help! We asked the @bellinghamlibrary Teen Services Librarian, Jennifer Lovchik (she/her/they/them), to curate a list of their favorite Queer-themed YA books! (Thanks, Jennifer!)"

THRIVE & GROW

Public computing: Restoring public computing has been a top priority for ITSD staff. Internet computers came online the week of August 23 at both Central and the branches, and the microfilm scanner was installed on September 14. Work continues on a few remaining tasks, such as setting up the videophone system in the new computer area, adding a catalog station to the Fiction area, and installing two computers in the Teen area, all at the Central library. The new self-check system was adjusted to allow patrons the option of typing in a barcode number. (Jon McConnell, Head of Digital Services)

Collection Services: COVID-related service delays from book vendor Baker & Taylor seem to be resolved. Orders are coming at a more predictable rate, though we've been warned that freight hauling services may cause unpredictability in November and December during the holiday shipping rush. (Jon McConnell, Head of Digital Services)

Respectfully submitted,
Rebecca Judd

DRAFT Request for Proposals (RFP) language
Facilities Master Plan consulting services

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

Through this Request for Proposals (“RFP”) the Library seeks competitive proposals for a consultant to develop a Library Facilities Master Plan to quantify existing space deficiencies and assets in the context of current program needs, and identify how best to address deficiencies and plan for future space and program growth system-wide. It will serve as a defensible guide to the Library’s capital program as it seeks to provide high quality 21st Century library services that meet the growing and evolving needs of the City of Bellingham.

The Facilities Master Plan should enable the Library to respond appropriately and effectively to changes in community demographics, technology and telecommunications development, emerging service expectations, aging facilities, and other future needs. Once complete, the Facilities Master Plan will be a significant asset to the Library’s ongoing planning efforts.

SCOPE OF WORK:

The services required to complete the preparation of a Facilities Master Plan consist of the following:

- Develop and implement community involvement process to engage a broad range of stakeholders in assessing current facilities and future community needs.
- Complete an assessment of all Library facilities, including dedicated public library space at three college locations. Review space utilization, configuration, physical arrangement, and suitability for Library services. Make recommendations for optimal space utilization, location, and adjacencies of functional public and non-public areas.
- Evaluate national trends and best practices as they relate to Bellingham Public Library and City of Bellingham planning needs and incorporate this broader lens in final Facilities Master Plan report.
- Assess and make recommendations as to the appropriate size and location of the Central Library and branches within legal service area, including City of Bellingham urban growth areas. identify whether additional facilities are needed, recommended size & type of facilities and in what areas they should be located. Identify potential locations for stand-alone community Drop Boxes.
- Provide recommendations for prioritizing into actionable steps any renovations to the current facilities which are suggested over the 10-year span of the Facilities Master Plan.
- Preparation of draft written Facilities Master Plan and coordination with Library for review and direction.
- Preparation of final written Facilities Master Plan, and presentation to the Library Board of Trustees and City Council at a regularly scheduled meeting.
- Provide the Project Committee with electronic copies of any presentations, aggregate data, and reports developed as part of the project.
